WHAT REDCLIFF NEEDS.

In Redcliff just now there appears to be great activity in all lines of business and in the past week two new retail businesses have been added to the list. With the activities in town and the increased interest in farming in the surrounding district, the prospects just now are most encouraging.

So far as the retail business in all lines of house-hold merchandise is concerned, Redcliff is well served by the stores ready here. There is one line of business, however, that is not represented and it is a line that is badly needed. That is an implement and farm machinery warehouse. At the present time there is nothing of this nature in town, and the need of it is a serious handicap not only to the farmers of the surrounding district but to the town as well. Without one, thousands of dollars that should pass through some agency here are finding their way into other channels and are helping to build up some other centre at the expense of Redcliff.

It is not only the money spent for machinery that the town is losing, but in the getting of this machinery thousands more are lost to the merchants of this town.

This is a matter in which the merchants should be vitally interested. They should get together and start some concerted movement to have an agency established here at the earliest possible moment.

A GOOD MOVEMENT.

Under the direction of the Minister of Education of the province, the Provincial Institute of Technology and Art is making an industrial and commercial survey of Alberta. The primary object of this survey is to learn what extent returned soldiers can be employed, but in conjunction with this the staff will endeavor to find out for those responsible for the re-training of the partially disabled soldiers, and to those responsible for the development of commercial and industrial education, the commercial and industrial situation in the province, not only from the standpoint of opportunity, but especially from the standpoint of the education needs (1) of those who are planning to enter these fields (2) of those who have already entered them and are desirous of securing additional training while engaged in business or industry.

With this information the institute will be in a better position to decide along what lines of activity to lay the most stress and will thus be in a better position to supply the needs of the province.

Mr. Broderick, one of the staff engaged for the purpose, will be in Redcliff next Monday to gather the desired information, and as this is a movement in the right direction we would ask all concerned to give him all possible assistance in his work.

Lumber men throughout the west are predicting another big jump in the price of lumber in the near future. There is not much chance of it going any lower for some time, anyway. It might be a good idea, therefore, to lay in a supply for granaries, etc., now.

PROPHECY COMES TRUE.

The visit of Arthur J. Balfour, that great British statesman, to the United States, with other representatives of the allied nations, is of striking importance when one recalls the history of the past.

When the Venezuelan question in the days of Grover Cleveland brought the United States and Great Britain to what appears to many as the verge of war, Mr. Balfour delivered an address in the House of Commons in which he declared that the idea of armed conflict between these two powers of a common tongue, common blood, and parallel ideas was repugnant to him and his countrymen. That occasion he gave utterance to a prophecy which events leading up to his present visit to the United States have brought true. In that speech he said in part:

"It cannot but be that those whose national roots go down into the same past as our own, who share our language, our literature, our laws, our religion, everything that makes a nation great, and who share in substance our institutions, it cannot but be that a time will come when they will feel that they and we have a common duty to perform, a common office to fulfill among the nations of the world. The time will come, the time must come, when someone, some statesman more fortunate even than President Monroe, will lay down the doctrine that between English speaking peoples war is impossible, and then it will be seen that every man who by rash action or hasty word incites to the preservation of peace offends it, it may be, impossible, has committed a crime not only against his own country, not only against that other country to whom he has invited war, but against civilization itself."

In a larger measure than he anticipated Mr. Balfour's prophecy has come true, and it is gratifying to know that he has lived to see it, and that he was one of the men chosen to help weld the chain which knits the two nations more closely together.

SOME ENCOURAGEMENT.

After the end and how we have been receiving from the battle front this last two weeks, the return of two of our boys from the trenches furnishes a very welcome rift in the dark cloud which has been hanging over our town.

With the large number from here now in the firing line and with the fierce fighting in which they are now engaged, it is only natural that Redcliff will be called upon to pay its share of the terrible price. We are paying it, but it is a source of some consolation and encouragement to know that some of our brave lads are returning to us. When we cannot forget the sacrifices already made, we can for the moment rejoice with those whose friends are returning and bid a whole-hearted welcome to the boys who have done their bit and have been spared to return.

WOMEN WANTED.

We are informed by the officers of the local branch of the Red Cross Society that there is a great need at present for more women to help with the work here. We are told they have an abundance of material on hand but it is hard to get it made up ready for shipment owing to the few women who are now taking an active interest in this very important work.

A look over the casualty lists of the past month and a reminder of the heavy fighting which has been going on during that time, should be enough to convince all that there is a greater need for willing Red Cross workers now than there has been at any time since war commenced. There is not a woman in this town or young girl, who can thread a needle, but can render valuable assistance in this work at this time.

Work will be given out at the rooms on Third street next Tuesday afternoon. Let every woman and girl in town be there and get something to do. A few minutes of your time may be the means of saving a life. Who knows?

SOLDIERS' Y.M.C.A.

In this issue of the Review appears an advertisement outlining the work the Y.M.C.A. has been and is doing among the soldiers both in training camps and at the front. Letters coming from the boys over seas furnishes another proof of this good work and even their letters are written on Y.M.C.A. stationery.

To carry on this work with its present proportions requires a large sum of money. Officers in charge of the work are now going through the west for the purpose of trying to secure funds. Capt. Pearson will be in Redcliff next week for this purpose and it is hoped he will get a good reception.

Some time ago the school board engaged an assistant principal in order that the principal might inspect the other rooms occasionally. Later they got him another assistant to stop the boys from swearing and supervise the play. Probably if they engaged another the school might get some attention.

Have you arranged for putting in a garden yet? If there are any in town who wish to put one in but have not been able to secure the lot we can tell them where they can get one for the asking. It is centrally located and on the water main.

The mayor of New York has ordered that all saloons be closed at 1 a.m. The Minneapolis Tribune wonders what New Yorkers will do now between 1 a.m. and bedtime. Sherman was right, all right.

Up in Calgary the clerks and other employees are fighting for a weekly half holiday. They have evidently never heard of the cesspool stunt up that way.

Premier Lloyd George's statement as to the government's proposed solution of the Irish problem has been postponed until next week because of unforeseen circumstances. This announcement was made in the house of commons by Andrew Bonar Law.

What the Y.M.C.A. Is Doing for the Canadian Soldiers

Barre statistics cannot properly convey a correct conception of this work; they will, however, help to show its scope.

There is a Y.M.C.A. encampment in every camp in Canada.

There are over 80 branches of Canadian Y.M.C.A. in France. Eighty-four men who rank as honor-ary captains have been sent overseas; about half of this number are in France.

Altogether over 500 N.C.O.'s and men under Y.M.C.A. direction are serving our boys in the Army. Special Y.M.C.A. officers give their attention to the returning wounded Canadians.

Enormous quantities of drinks of tea, coffee, etc., are dispensed to the soldiers in France. Over a million sheets of letter paper with envelopes and writing facilities are provided free every month, in both England and France, and over two million have been similarly used in Canada since June.

On request of soldiers Overseas, snap shots of their families are sent to them. Hundreds of thousands of new and used magazines are supplied in England and France each month. Circulating libraries are kept in many of the branches.

Wherever possible a Y.M.C.A. officer accompanies troop trains to point of embarkation. These secretaries are well equipped with writing material, reading matter, small games, song sheets, etc.

Erands of varying importance are willingly attended to, and small purchases amounting at times to hundreds of dollars a day are executed for soldiers at the front by a Y.M.C.A. staff in England.

Vast quantities of athletic and games equipment are freely supplied in England and France. Two noted Canadian preachers are Y.M.C.A. Captains doing evangelistic work among the Canadian overseas. Testaments and Prayers have been circulated by thousands.

Entertainment in the rest camps in France, and the big camps in England always includes moving pictures, often the small portable moving picture outfits are used to entertain isolated units.

In France, wherever the Y.M.C.A. is, gramophones are to be found. So great is this feature, that one man gives his whole time to conducting the record and film exchange.

Every evening finds thousands of Canadian soldiers in concerts, entertainments and lectures under Y.M.C.A. auspices. The pianos are a source of continual delight to the boys.

Thousands of Canadian soldiers everywhere try to hear religious addresses and sing the old hymns. In France Y.M.C.A. secretaries find great difficulty in closing the meeting, the men are so glad to get together in this way.

The City Association keeps an open door to our soldiers and are always ready for the soldier's call. In many cases Y.M.C.A. gymnasiums are used for regular military training. There are many instances of physically unfit recruits receiving special treatment from Y.M.C.A. physical directors and then being accepted for service.

There have been occasions when the Y.M.C.A. canteen near the front line was able to save many Canadian lives by giving away free the entire stock, when rations were interrupted during a heavy engagement.

The whole Y.M.C.A. program is distinctly religious. In the home training camps this is particularly true. In England the religious program is not over-looked, but greater use is made of other features to counteract certain outside activities. In France every opportunity is taken advantage of (for religious activities), and the value of the Y.M.C.A. in keeping men in touch with old ideals of living and reminding them of the old environment cannot be overestimated.

A great contribution is made to "the Spirit of the army in France by supplying quantities of athletic material, by the concerts in the rest camps, the service of the dugouts, canteens, etc.

This program involves an immense outlay in huts, tents, etc. In France the Y.M.C.A. is also from tiny dugouts to immense quarters where 2,000 men may be accommodated in a concert at one time, besides all the writing and refreshment facilities.

Y. M. C. A. officers in Canada give special attention to hospital work. Recently a concert party under Y.M.C.A. direction covered the four Divisions in France. The best talent in England is continually appearing before the Canadians.

Major Birks, in charge of the Y.M.C.A. Military work Overseas, says, "The work is about as varied as the number of men."

Speaking of Y.M.C.A. Sports, said: "I congratulate the Y.M.C.A. on the way in which they have organized these sports. They have organized them, as they have organized everything else in this war, with a most perfect success. Wherever I go, I hear nothing but good of the work they are doing throughout the country, and we owe to them a very deep debt of gratitude."

Congress Adopts The Selective Draft

By overwhelming majority both the United States senate and house passed the administration bill to raise a new army by selective draft.

The final roll call brought into line behind the bill many senators and representatives who had fought for the volunteer system until routed by the defeat of volunteer amendments in both houses. The senate, which had voted down the volunteer plan, 60 to 39, passed the bill by a vote of 81 to 19.

In the house the vote against the volunteer plan was 213 to 109, and trust by which the bill itself was passed was 227 to 22.

The bill as passed calls for:

A total armed force of 1,000,000 men.

An army of 267,000.

A national guard of 625,000.

Filling the gaps in the militia by volunteer and forced enlistment.

In addition, the raising of 1,000,000 in two groups of 500,000 each by selective conscription.

Liability to service of all males between the ages of 21 and 40 years inclusive.

Dower Act Is Now Effective in Alberta

The Dower Act passed at the recent session of the legislature came into force last Tuesday. Now a married man cannot transfer, sell, mortgage, or otherwise dispose of the homestead as defined in the act without the consent in writing of his wife. The residence of a married man shall not be deemed to have changed unless the change is consented to in writing by the wife. The homestead is interpreted to mean the land on which the house occupied by the owner thereof as his residence is situated, consisting of not more than one-quarter section, or in a city, town or village, the land consisting of not more than four lots, as shown on a duly registered plan, on which the house occupied by the owner thereof as a residence is situated.

This act does not apply to any disposition of a homestead already provided for by agreement in writing.

Not For Her

They had finished the first dance and he was leading her back to a seat.

"I could be dancing, couldn't you?" he asked.

"No," she replied. "There are pleasanter ways than being trampled to death."

Their Destination

She: "I wonder where these clouds are going?"

He: "I think they are going to thunder!"

Could Postpone Pleasure

Enthusiast (at party): "We shall hear more of this young man."

Sufferer: "Not tonight, I hope."

Not Trying to Meet Them

"Have you been able to meet all the demands of your creditors?"

"Meet them? I haven't been able to avoid them!"

Not Receiving

Caller: "Is your husband in, Mrs. Maguire?"

Mrs. Maguire: "Yes, sir."

Caller: "I'd like to see him."

Mrs. Maguire: "He can't see. It's for free medicine."

Russia Does Not Want Separate Peace

It is evident from foreign telegrams that the attitude of the Russian democracy toward peace has been misconstrued and distorted by the foreign press. The desire for peace has become more widespread and articulate since the revolution, but it is based on entirely different conceptions from those entertained during the old regime.

These new conceptions have nothing to do with a premature peace with Germany. As a matter of fact they have not yet taken any definite form, simply emanating from the new spirit of democracy which wishes to build a foundation for a durable world peace.
